GulFood 2007 – Germany provides the biggest National Pavilion

More than 50 exhibitors present catering equipment “Made in Germany”

Frankfurt a.M., January 2007. This year the German Federal Ministry of Economics and Technology (BMWi) as well as the Association of the German Trade Fair Industries (AUMA) are again supporting a German group participation at the GulFood exhibition. The German Pavilion in hall 6/7 covers 1100 square meters and includes 50 companies with additional 10 sub-exhibitors as well as an information stand of the Federal Republic of Germany. Clearly the biggest national Pavilion!

“Our aim is to present Germany’s excellent products and offer our renowned services to key players and decision makers from all over the Middle East”, says Frank Kienle, secretary general of HKI, the German association of catering equipment manufacturers.

HKI, as one of the initiating associations for the German Pavilion, is accompanying the German delegation and providing professional advice to the visitors.

The German presentation includes, among other items, high quality thermal cooking and catering equipment, bakery and confectionery products and equipment, refrigeration and food service equipment, textile equipment, classic design and authentic interior decoration for hotels and restaurants. Special product highlights refer to design, safety, hygiene, efficiency and quality.
